The Legislature finds that contraband in the CNMI prison presents many problems, including threats to the safety of persons and the security of the prison. While the Department of Corrections, which handles the confinement of persons, has regulations establishing a list of what items constitute contraband, the Penal Code does not authorize prosecution for possession of contraband.

Many objects, such as cell phones and cash, are easily available and used outside of custody but can be used in prison to plan the commission of crimes, threaten witnesses, or escape. Other objects, if altered, can be used to threaten or harm persons. The listing and

3	Most jurisdictions have laws criminalizing the possession or promotion of contraband
4	in correctional facilities. Clarification in CNMI law is needed to properly define what items
5	are prohibited along with appropriate penalties for those who introduce, possess and promote
6	contraband in correctional facilities. The Legislature further finds that by enacting the prison
7	contraband statute it will provide the Department of Corrections a more enforceable mandate
8	that can deter inmates, detainees, correctional officers, contractors, volunteers, and the general
9	public from possessing contraband in any of the CNMI's correctional facilities.

5	outside of a correctional facility. The term includes, without limitation, a telephone, a
6	cellular telephone, a personal digital assistant, a transmitting radio, watch or a computer
7	that is connected to a computer or cellular network or is capable of connecting to a
8	computer or cellular network through the use of wireless or wired technology or is
9	otherwise capable of communicating with a person or device outside of a correctional
10	facility.
11	(3) "Minor contraband" means:
12	(i) an alcoholic beverage or any controlled substance in schedule V, as defined
13	in 6 CMC Chapter 1 (Commonwealth Controlled Substances Act), any paraphernalia
14	used or intended for use in ingesting or consuming a controlled substance; or any other
15	drugs not included in schedules I through V, except on the prescription of a licensed
16	practitioner;
17	(ii) any United States or foreign currency;
18	(iii) any peripheral device that stores data digitally, mechanically, optically, or
19	using flash memory; and
20	(iv) any other object listed in Department of Corrections rules and regulations
21	as contraband and not defined as major contraband by this section.
22	(b) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly:
23	(1) Provides or attempts to provide major or minor contraband to a person in
24	custody in a correctional facility, on the grounds of a correctional facility, or during an

1	(2) While in custody, makes, possesses, or obtains, or attempt to make, possess
2	or obtain major or minor contraband in a correctional facility, on the grounds of a
3	correctional facility, or during an outside assignment.
4	(c) A conviction for the promotion of major contraband shall be punishable by
5	a term of imprisonment of not more than four years, a fine of not more than $1,500, or
6	both.
7	(d) A conviction for the promotion of minor contraband shall be punishable by
8	a term of imprisonment of not more than one year, a fine of not more than $1,000, or
9	both.
10	(e) The court shall order any sentence of imprisonment for this offense to run
11	consecutive to any other sentence the person is serving at the time of the offense."
12	SECTION 3. SEVERABILITY.
13	If any provisions of this Act or the application of any such provision to any person or
14	circumstance should be held invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of this
15	Act or the application of its provisions to persons or circumstances other than those to which
16	it is held invalid shall not be affected thereby.
17	SECTION 4. SAVINGS CLAUSE.
18	This Act and any repealer contained herein shall not be construed as affecting any
19	existing right acquired under contract or acquired under statutes repealed or under any rule,
20	regulation, or order adopted under the statutes. Repealers contained in this Act shall not affect
21	any proceeding instituted under or pursuant to prior law. The enactment of the Act shall not
22	have the effect of terminating, or in any way modifying, any liability, civil or criminal, which
23	shall already be in existence on the date this Act becomes effective.
